

Evaluating Abbie and Olivia's Bitsy Games

Thank you for volunteering to evaluate another game. Below is the plan for how we will go about evaluating remotely. Volunteers will receive an additional 5% on their end-of-semester grade for this extra work.

Please note that if you are Abbie or Olivia, you are a part of BOTH groups - one as the author and the other as a peer evaluator.

Peer Evaluation Groups

Group 1: Abbie's Game <https://flip.com/a6a642c0>

1. Ashton (volunteer)
2. Craig (volunteer)
3. Olivia
4. Abbie (author)

Group 2: Olivia's Game <https://flip.com/6c066ebe>

1. Bronson (volunteer)
2. Reian (volunteer)
3. Abbie
4. Olivia (author)

Process

By Friday at noon, the game author will:

1. Go to the appropriate topic in Flip and leave a quick video that contains the URL to their game and optionally includes any introductory info they'd like the rest of the group to know before they play the game.

By Monday at noon, group members (other than the author) will:

1. Watch the author's Flip video to get the URL to the game.
2. Play the game for 7 minutes.
3. Leave a 5-minute Flip video describing their reaction to the game, including elements that are working great and elements that could be improved.
4. Once all members of the group have completed the above, each member of the group will watch the Flip responses (and optionally reply to any of them in Flip) before going to the next step.

By Wednesday at noon, everyone will:

1. Fill out the peer evaluation/rubric form for the game they evaluated and submit it to the Bitsy Games Canvas assignment. The author will fill out a form for their own game, as well, and submit it to the Canvas assignment - a self-evaluation.
